

Sir

London April 7th 1790 -

Understanding that the Library Company of Philadelphia intend to fix upon a different place for the building of a library, as a more convenient situation than the lot ^{near the} ~~near the~~ 9th street, we beg to intimate to you our compliance with their requisition, made through D^r Parke, for power to sell that lot. You may therefore consider any mode which you together agree on the expediency of, for confirming their title, as having the sanction of our joint consent. We are, Sir, with regard, your obedient humble servants
