

strangers, yes, and our gay city larks, who, in their estimation, know as much as will last them forever, deluded into houses of bad repute without being aware of the impending danger.

In order to warn the stranger and gay city bucks against the possibility of being involuntarily induced to visit a low pest house, the following list of such places is made out and laid before the public.

With this book in his hand a man will be enabled to shun those low dens of infamy and disease with which this city abounds, as a true and authentic description of the grade of each house is here briefly given.

To every man the author of this statistical warning says, avoid each and every place that is marked with a woeful X, as a single visit might be the cause of utter ruin and disgrace.

STRANCERS' GUIDE.

Miss SARAH TURNER,

No. 2 WOOD STREET, ABOVE ELEVENTH.

This house is situated in one of the most respectable parts of the city; the landlady is a perfect Queen. At this house you will hear no disgusting language to annoy your ear; everything connected with this establishment is calculated to make a man happy. The young ladies are beautiful and accomplished; they will at any time amuse you with a fine tune on the piano, or use their melodious voices to drive dull care away. Stranger, do not neglect to pay a visit at this house before you leave our quiet city of sisterly affection. The ladies are Misses Josephine Philips, Isabella Stuart, Mary Jane Greer and Mary Stevens. These young, beautiful and enchanting creatures are all that man can desire. There is one thing certain—none but gentlemen visit this Paradise of Love.

Miss JOSEPHINE SOMERS,

No. 4 WOOD STREET, NEAR ELEVENTH STREET.

This is indeed a Temple of Venus, and we do most sincerely assure our readers that Miss Josephine is an accomplished lady. You can spend an evening here with great pleasure; the young ladies are all beautiful, accomplished and bewitching—they are Elizabeth Moore, Louisa Garrett, &c. Go one, go all, and you will be pleased.
