Series IX. Papers relating to Pennsylvania, New England, Etc. circa 1780 [1413]

Scope and Contents note

The series "Papers relating to Pennsylvania and New England" contains information gathered by Du Simitière about the history and current state of affairs in Pennsylvania and New England. The volume includes a table of contents and an index. Of special interest are the several bibliographies of the books available to Du Simitière about the colonies, Native Americans, Pennsylvania, the West Indies, and New England. Other documents include chronologies, catalogs, copies of historical documents, newspaper clippings, and lists of families with chariots and coaches in Pennsylvania in 1782. The material in this series was probably compiled during the 1780s, Documents are in English.

Series X. Miscellaneous papers from du Simitière (Scraps) 1740-1783

Scope and Contents note

The series "Miscellaneous papers from Du Simitière (Scraps)" consists of three boxes containing a variety of materials that pertain to numerous topics, some of which are covered in other series. Many of the documents are copies of original documents done by Du Simitière. The collection includes drawings, journals, poems, newspaper clippings, vocabularies, and notes on North American Indians. The order created by the first survey was maintained, and the series appears to be arranged by topic. The series dates from 1740 to 1783 with the exception of ten medieval Latin manuscripts. The collection is written in Latin, French, Chinese, and English. This series contains some material relating specifically to Philadelphia.

Researchers who have not located a document or topic they are seeking elsewhere in the collection should browse this series.
