MR. VOLTAIRE'S PREFACE. 510 Prussia himself: so that it is very different in several places from the first. What follows is added to the preface in the latter. "I, the underfigned, have lodged the manuscript in the hands of Monfieur Cyrille le Petit, Preacher to the French Church at the Hague: which manuscript agrees exactly with a Book entitled a Critical Essay upon the Prince. And as every other Edition is defective, the Bookfellers are required to follow the present Copy. Hague, F. DE VOLTAIRE. Oct. 12, 1740. for man Princes, that is feel imperely it." Inc. a that are piece, every men Princes, and per the person of the property of th example of that binaries have allegables because To the left place Andet pleasald. With the Mills Williams.
Without dealer, a my man ment here it: was a sense it as a well as the mills to the fact degree to the will the last to the last to the fact degree to the will the last to the The property of the matter to further the part of the part the virtuous darker of the Examen, who had done it is a number modern The Sorn after the fall Edition of the Engine by Man Van Duren of the Taging another was published there by Mr. Voltaire himtel; with the new title of a Critical Efforthan I articula I en e. In the latter, which is here traulated, there are at my and large H H oftons and suppressions as well as accuracy and the King of A newcious Robber, in a broat of a saily of it also will live to the last of the A livest in livest and the A livest in livest and the A livest was a way after the livest and the way at the livest and the way at the livest and the of T is all still at a contract of the place of the ors, the control of a very gas model for new Princes, I man, the exact control of the control of

Pri

tim

of 1

one