

The CONTENTS.

The cruel Punishments inflicted by some of our Kings on such as kill'd a Deer, &c. in any of their Forests,	Page 41, 42
New Forest in Hampshire , how first raised,	42
Of the Justice in Eyre , and the Court called the Justice-Seat ,	43
That none could fell Timber on his own Lands without the Licence of the Justice in Eyre ,	44
Purpresture , Waste , and Assarts , what they are,	45
Regarder of a Forest, his Office, ibid. and	46
Of the Expeditating of Dogs in Forests,	46, 47
Of the Extortions committed by Officers of Forests,	47, 48
Scotale , what,	48
Of the Court of Swainmote ,	49, 50
The Fence-Month , what,	50
Of Agistors , and Agistments ,	50, 51
Of the Castellain ,	55, 56
That the People of England recovered as ma- ny and as great Privileges and Liberties by the Charta de Foresta , as they did by Mag- na Charta ,	56, 57
The Statute of Confirmation of Magna Charta , and Charta de Foresta ,	57 to 64
Sententia lata super Chartas , and that it is left out in the late printed Statute-Book,	61
The Solemn Curse of the Bishops against the Breakers of Magna Charta , and Charta de Foresta ,	62, 63
The Statute De Tallagio non concedendo , and Comment upon it; and that the King shall lay no Burthens on his People but by their Consent in Parliament,	64 to 75
	The