

Trip to England 1926
With Aunt L. Rhoads, A.

CHAPEL CLIFF, POLPERRO.

CORNISH BEAUTY SPOT SAVED.—A view of the pretty fishing village of Polperro Cornwall, showing on the left Chapel Cliff, which has been saved from the threat of building developments that were likely to destroy the amenities of this little holiday resort, much favoured by artists. Although Chapel Cliff has been saved, adjacent land remains under a threat. Some 40 acres of land will be forthcoming.