A CURE FOR THE STING OF A WASP.—A few days ago happening to be in the country, we witnessed the efficacy of the remedy for the sting of a Wasp, mentioned in one of our late papers. A little boy was stung severely, and was in great torture, until an onion was applied to the part affected, when the cure was instantaneous. This important and simple remedy cannot be too well known, and we pledge ourselves to the fact before stated.

The third is a pair of Gentlemen's SHORT BOOTS. We have nothing to note about the character of these boots excepting that they are also made of patent leather, save that the tops, which it will be perceived, are curtailed of the usual longitude of boots, and made of morocco. This style is particularly acceptable with a large portion of the world of fashion, their convenience being equal to their beauty.
