

PHILADELPHIA CENTRAL BOOK & STATIONERY WAREHOUSE.

C. G. HENDERSON & CO.

(LATE GEORGE S. APPLETON,)

No. 164 CHESNUT STREET, CORNER OF SEVENTH, UNDER BARNUM'S MUSEUM.

THIS establishment recommends itself to the public from its central location, the great variety and assortment of Books on every known subject, and lastly, for its low prices. All persons wish to purchase as cheap as they can, and it is the aim of the Proprietors to sell at the lowest rates; hoping thereby to retain customers, not only for one or two purchases, but for all they may want in

BOOKS, STATIONERY OR ENGRAVINGS.

Every lover of Books should visit this great depot of Literature and Art, and he will be sure to find works suited to his peculiar taste;—no matter what the subject may be, whether of History, Biography, Theology, or Romance; each are arranged under their appropriate heads, and present to the student an array of authors seldom so numerous collected together. Money invested in a library of books, is a constant source of profit and pleasure; and there is no companion so entertaining, and no pleasure so permanent, as a good book.

THIS BOOK-HOUSE

Was originally established in Philadelphia, by MR. GEORGE S. APPLETON, in 1842, as a branch of Messrs. D. Appleton & Co's. well known publishing house in New York. It has always been distinguished for its superior and rare collection of BOOKS, of the best editions, both American and Foreign.

CHARLES G. HENDERSON, }
JOHN A. ROBINSON. }

ALSO, FOR THE BEAUTY AND ELEGANCE OF ITS

PICTORIAL DEPARTMENT.

Comprising under this head, some of the best STANDARD WORKS, richly embellished and illuminated in the highest style of art; together with the best Books upon every known subject.

In addition to the assortment of Books, at the above Store, the Proprietors keep on hand a variety of

LETTER, BILLET AND NOTE PAPER, AND ENVELOPES, comprising the richest assortment to be found in the City, and at prices that will recommend them to every one. Also,

Gold Pens, Sealing Wax, Steel Pens, Quills, Wafers, and every article usually kept at a Wholesale and Retail Stationery Warehouse.

Strangers will please notice the advantages above offered.

C. G. HENDERSON & CO.