OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"HENRY S. TARR has just finished a beautiful Marble Monument for Bolivar, Tennessee. * * *

The furnishing of this piece of work for a distant part of the United States is another evidence of the high reputation of Philadelphia artisans and mechanics abroad."—Philad. Ledger, August 20, 1849.

* * "Any one who passes HENRY S. TARR's Marble Yard, in Green Street, near Seventh, may see a variety of beautiful emblems, and some splendid specimens of Sepulchral Sculpture. * * * His Monumental piece, wrought by Mr. TARR's own hands, for a Family Tomb, is a most elaborate production."—The Christian Observer, May 27, 1848.

H. S. TARR'S MARBLE YARD,

No. 274 Green Street, above Seventh.

CARVED, ORNAMENTAL, STATUARY & MONUMENTAL WORK

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The Public is respectfully invited to visit the large and splendid assortment of Tombs, Monuments and Statuary now finished. The Yard is situated within a few paces of the route of the Eighth Street Line of Omnibuses, and but a short distance from the Sixth, Ninth and Tenth Street routes. From the facilities which I now possess for executing work, I can offer inducements to purchasers, as regards time, beauty and speed, unsurpassed by any other establishment in the city or elsewhere. The specimens now in the Warerooms and Yard will well repay a visit.

The annexed opinions of the Press are but few of the many we might publish, but refrain from so doing, knowing that persons who may wish any article in my line of business will be satisfied by giving me a call. I wish my work to stand upon its own merits.

Monuments and Tombs, both Plain and Ornamental,

Have been made and erected by me in every Cemetery in the city, such as Monument Cemetery, Glenwood, Odd Fellows', &c. Also, nearly every State in the Union has work sent from this Establishment.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

* * "We would advise our readers to pay a visit to Mr. TARR's Marble Yard. Every taste may be suited. The Tombs and Monuments executed by Mr. TARR is the branch of Sculpture in which he peculiarly excels."—Spt. Times, May 26, 1848.

"We have not for a long time examined a more beautiful specimen of Marble work than that to be seen at the Marble Yard of H. S. TARR, Green Street, above Seventh. It is intended for the Family Tomb of Mr. JOHN CHAMBERS, N. J., and is throughout an admirable specimen, and well calculated to win high reputation for its skilful manufacturer. Mr. TARR has other choice specimens in his establishment, which will well repay a visit."—Philad. Inquirer, May 19, 1848.
