

The Charter of the Library Company of Philadelphia [with]
Laws of the Library Company of Philadelphia [and] Books
Added to the Library Since the Year 1741. Philadelphia:
Printed by B. Franklin, 1746.

In 1746 Franklin printed a supplement to the 1741 catalogue. It follows the same format, giving full title information, with the books grouped not by subject, but by size. Note that already gifts were an important source of new acquisitions.

Franklin wrote, "in the Scheme of the Library, I had provided only for English books," and indeed the members of the Library Company, with little Latin and less Greek, bought very few books not in English.
