Made by the DIRECTORS, to be observed in the LIBRARY.

I. THE Librarian shall attend at the Library on every day of the week, Sundays excepted, from 2 o'clock until 7 in the afternoon, in order to lend, let out, and receive books, &c. and shall keep a book column-way, in which shall be noted the name of the borrower or hirer, alphabetically; the title, size, volume, and number of the book; the time for which the book is lent or hired; the sum for which the note is given; the time when the book is returned; the time it is kept out; the sum deposited as security, and the forfeitures arising for all defaults. Also, he shall enter in the Catalogue kept at the Library, such new books as may be purchased or added to the Library; label and number the same, as well as all others from which the label or number may be torn off or defaced. He shall also replace the books on the shelves, as they are brought in, as soon as he conveniently can, first having examined the same to see if free from damage.

II. He shall lend to any Member on the days above mentioned who shall apply for the same.

and no greater number unless on hire, or so connected as to be otherwise useless. Such persons however, who reside at the distance of five miles or upwards from the city, are permitted to have books double the above mentioned time: for all books so lent, he shall take a note, payable to the Company, for double the value as high as he can estimate of the book or set of books to which they belong, conditioned to return the same undefaced within the time above-mentioned, at the expiration of which (unless application has been made by another member for the same books, and the Librarian requested to take a memorandum thereof) the borrower if he inclines, may renew his note for the like time.

III. Every person (not being a member) who shall hire a book, &c. shall first give a note for double the value thereof in the same manner, and be subject to the same regulations as a member; and shall also deposit as security in the hands of the Librarian, double the value of such book or books; but if the book or books should belong to a set, then such person shall deposit treble the value of the volume or volumes which he shall so take out, for which book or books so hired, he shall pay for the use of the Library until the expiration of his note, IV. Every member or other person who shall neglect to return the book or books, within the time specified in his note, shall pay to the Librarian for such neglect, for the use of the Library, two pence per day, or for each time the Library is afterwards opened for letting out books; and if not returned within one month from the expiration of the time limited in the note, and all fines accruing paid off the note or deposit money; shall be deemed forfeited to the Company.

V. Books returned are to be delivered into the hands of the Librarian to be examined whether damaged or not.

VI. No person from whom any hire or forfeiture is due, or who hath damaged any book, shall be permitted to have another book till satisfaction be made.

VII. If it should happen that a Member, and one who is not a Member should apply for the same book at the same time, the Member shall have the preference.

VIII. A Member may take out on hire, without a deposit, as many books in value, for which his share shall, by the Librarian, be deemed, a sufficient security, on the same terms in other respects, as persons who are not members.

IX. The Librarian, from his book of entries, shall make out a list of forfeitures which have arisen, in a book to be kept for that purpose; and on the first Monday in every month, he shall deliver to the Secretary, a copy of the same to be laid before the Directors, at their usual Meetings.
