

giving the broadest intellect with its widest compass the opportunity to enlighten, to caution, and to extend the capacity of those whose occasions or means or disposition may have prevented their thinking it necessary to go beyond the self-satisfied character of a majority.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this eighteenth day of April, An. Dom. eighteen hundred and sixty-seven (1867).

(Signed) JAMES RUSH. [SEAL.]

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the above named Dr. James Rush, as and for a codicil to his last will and testament, in our presence, who, in his presence and in presence of each at his request, have hereunto set our hands as witnesses thereto.

J. S. FARMER, April 18th, 1867.

R. S. HUNTER, April 18th, 1867.

LAST CODICIL.

I, James Rush, do make this codicil to my last will and testament. For strong and sufficient reasons I hereby absolutely revoke all legacies, annuities and bequests given in my will and testament, or in any codicil thereto, unto Benjamin Rush, son of my brother Richard Rush, and Robert and Julia Manners, children of my sister Mary Manners.

Witness my hand and seal this twelfth day of April, A. D. 1869.

(Signed) JAMES RUSH.
