

Committee met June 2, 1787.

Present,-

Benjamin Gibbs, Benj. Poultney,
John Raighn,

Mrs. Meredith having lost two volumes of an old broken sett. of "Sir Charles Grandison," which at the time they were lent we judge were worth three shillings & 6d. per volume, - the Committee determine that she pay six shillings & 6d. (that is, twelve shillings.)

Paid Feb. 21, 1791-

six shillings-

for the lost Volume-

William Clark having lost "Watts Poems," a Duodecimo, supposed to be worth six shillings, judged he shall either replace the book and pay six shillings, or pay fifteen shillings without replacing the book, beside and exclusive of, Fines accrued, which is, - twenty-five shillings.

At a Meeting of the Committee, June 7, 1787.

Present,-

Benj. Gibbs, Benj. Poultney,
John Raighn.

Doctor Frederick Phile having lost "Miss Moore's Search after Happiness," a small Octavo book, value 5/ and besides being subject to former fines, the Board agree to accept of four dollars as a full compensation, and permit him the use of his share.

Paid Nov. 27, 1787-

for the lost book, &c.

£1¹⁰ 0